Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

My dream house will be a one-storey country cottage. Though many people like to live in a big house, I prefer living in a small one on a farm because I might enjoy fresh air and a peaceful atmosphere. Like most cottages, my house will be quiet.

The front of the house will be made of stone and it will have a nice wooden roof with a chimney on the top. I will use space in my house efficiently. There will be a living room, four bedrooms, two bathrooms and large windows that will let in a lot of natural light.

In the living room, there will be a reading table, a sofa, and a computer. The reading table will become a dining table in the evening, and the sofa will turn into a bed at night. I might not even cook, but I will buy canned food from a supermarket.

I love flowers, so I will plant various kinds of flowers around the house. I think it might be really cute. I will take a lot of photos of flowers every day. This is my hobby.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Remembering the past is an essential part of understanding who we are and where we come from. For many people, memories of childhood, school days, and family traditions are precious. These memories shape our identity and help us stay connected to our roots. Reflecting on the past can bring a sense of comfort, especially during challenging times. It reminds us of how far we have come and how much we have grown. However, it is important not to dwell too much on past mistakes or regrets, as this can prevent us from living fully in the present.

In addition to personal memories, people also remember important historical events that have shaped the world. These events, such as wars, revolutions, and scientific discoveries, serve as reminders of humanity's progress and struggles. Celebrating historical anniversaries and visiting museums or monuments can help future generations appreciate the lessons of the past. While it is important to look back, it is equally important to use these lessons to create a better future.

Balancing memories with forward-thinking can help us lead more meaningful lives. By remembering the past and learning from it, we can make better decisions and shape a brighter future for ourselves and for others.

Question 19. What is the main idea of the passage? (TH)
